

Overextension:

An Overextension is a Setup that occurs when participants bid aggressively in one direction, causing an unsustainable move. This sets up a big reversal opportunity when the momentum is lost. Participants will look to exit once the momentum is gone and this will lead to some mean reversion.

Best types of trades for this setup:

- Reversals

