

$NU DAY 2 + VWAP CONTINUATION

Trevon Baucom
$NU
August 17, 2026

THE BIG PICTURE

$SPY

- Example: SPY gaps up, trades down and then reverses, this not a market play, but the market rallies into the close making this trade work.

$QQQ

QQQ initially attempted to move higher but rejected morning highs and moved toward intraday lows.

QQQ was down about 0.16%, so tech was not giving strong support to a long NU trade.

The weak index backdrop made it more important to wait for NU to prove support instead of buying the first push.

THE BIG PICTURE

$SPY / XLF

SPY rejected early strength and was down about 0.36%.

IWM was down about 0.52%, showing weaker breadth.

XLF was down about 0.58%, confirming that financials were not supporting NU.

Market and sector were a headwind for longs and confirmation for the short.

BIG PICTURE TAKEAWAY

BIG PICTURE TAKEAWAY

NU opened higher at $15.40 but failed to hold that strength and declined about 2.6%.

The market hurt the long side, but NU's weakness was larger than SPY, QQQ, and XLF, showing stock-specific post-earnings profit-taking.

This favored waiting for support to establish instead of aggressively buying the initial open

INTRADAY FUNDAMENTALS

- Previous earnings / Day 2 follow-through from the prior earnings move.

WHY IT MATTERED

- This was mainly a Day 2 setup from the previous day's earnings reaction, not a fresh major catalyst.

TECHNICAL ANALYSIS

$NU

Daily: gap up into resistance.
Intraday: VWAP continuation.

SUPPORT

- $15.21 — premarket low
- $15.00 — prior-day low

RESISTANCE

- $16.00

TRADE LEVELS

- Entry: $15.03
- First exit: $14.95
- Final exit: $14.85
- Stop: $15.10

Key idea: short the second-day move and play in the same direction as Day 1.

TRADE STRATEGY

- • Setup: NU Day 2 + VWAP continuation
- • Direction: short continuation, not long
- • Thesis: play the same direction as the Day 1 earnings move
- • Entry plan: VWAP consolidation
- • Setup criteria: strong sellers and one-direction trend
- • Invalidation: $15.10 hard stop
- • Targets: $14.95 first exit, $14.85 final exit
- • Keep side-watch names active after the open

TRADE MANAGEMENT

- Entry: $15.03
- First exit: $14.95
- Final exit: $14.85
- Stop: $15.10
- Position size: 4 shares traded
- No adds
- No adjustments

Management note: the entry was mid — not perfect, but not bad. The trade used a tight stop and could be re-entered if the setup reset.

STOP PLAN

- Hard stop at $15.10.

WHY

- A tight stop allowed re-entry if the VWAP continuation setup reset instead of fighting the move.
- RISK SCORE
- 7/10

TRADE REVIEW

- • Clear stock selection
- • Mid entry — not best, not bad
- • Revisit side-watch ideas after the open
- • Let opening drive reveal the stock's nature

MAIN LESSON

Revisit ideas after the open and use the opening drive as a signal. Not every trade needs to be entered within the first 5–10 minutes; let the stock show its nature first.

NEXT TIME

Go through the side watchlist after the open and revisit ideas once the opening drive reveals the stock's direction.

OVERALL TAKEAWAY

The side watchlist is just as important as the main watchlist. Opening-drive information can show where the best opportunity actually is.
